'All-out fight' promised against Knolls' cluster

An "all-out fight" is promised against a proposed cluster development of 10 houses on one and a third acres at the northwest corner of Carmel Knolls Dr. and Carmel Valley Rd.

County planning commission Wednesday approved Will Hudson's request for rezoning of one-third acre of commercial zoned land plus an adjacent acre zoned one-acre single-family at the location.

Declaring war against the proposal is the Carmel Knolls Assoc. with Col. St. E.P. Tyner (Ret.), a director of the Association, in the lead.

PlanCom apparently felt that this was a compromise to get rid of the island of one-third acre zoned commercial years ago.

"I feel that this is too big a price for us to pay," Tyner commented, "to eliminate one-third acre commercial. It can't help but establish a precedent for 11 acres just to the east across the road."

He said that Hudson has contended that because he has $53,000 invested in the one and a third acre, he needs approval for 10 houses in order to come out.

Tyner declared that dividing by 10 gives a price of $5,300 per house site, which is much too generous for the developer. "If the price were twice that, it would still be cheap for buyers," Tyner said. "It's just too much density."

He pointed out that the Lower Valley Advisory Committee as well as Carmel Knolls Assoc. oppose the project. "I feel we can enlist the entire Valley, for it sets a dangerous precedent."

He said that Hudson has argued that it is appropriate because it is near th e Rancho Shopping Center. "But where do you stop?" he asked. Some of Carmel Knolls was "downgraded" to half acre lots, a compromise at the time, Tyner added. "One bad precedent always leads to another," he declared.

Gas news at PG&E meeting?

PG & E is expected to reveal plans and time-table for bringing natural gas further up Carmel Valley, probably to the Village area, at a luncheon meeting this Wednesday, Oct. 5 at Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club.

Called by Pres. Rex Pryer of CV Property Owners Assoc., the meeting will be attended by leaders of other local organizations and PG & E officials.

Appeal probable

PlanCom OK's two-year extension for Baez School

County planning commission last week approved a two-year extension of the use permit of the Institute for the Study of Non-violence.

Also approved were the Institute's requests to up the number of students permitted from 20 to 26, as permitted by the building code, and to hold weekend classes. Only Commissioner Mrs. Minnie Prewitt of Soledad dissented.

Mrs. Gerald Petkus, who lives across Carmel Valley Rd. from the Institute which she opposes, has 10 days from Tuesday to appeal the PlanCom decision to the board of supervisors. She did this with success last spring, and has indicated she will again appeal.

Attorney Francis Heisler, arguing for the Institute, claimed that, if it is a school, only the State of California, not the PlanCom, has power to tell it how to operate.

CV Commissioner Willard Branson asked if conditions on the current use permit had been followed, and County Zoning Administrator said they had to his knowledge.

MRS. PETKUS DISAGREES

Mrs. Petkus disagreed, adding that the problems caused her by the Institute had resulted in her being placed under a doctor's care. She said that one day she felt so hysterical that she took her pistol and "fired a few shots into the embankment."

She said that there has been excessive traffic until 2:30 a.m. and that students, congregating in the Institute driveway, bothered the Petkus children. Students living in the area blocked the road by walking arm-in-arm on the road, sometimes four abreast, she said.

Strangers, she said, appear at the Petkus home, inquiring about the Institute. Cars go back and forth in front of the Petkus house, often violating traffic laws, Mrs. Petkus said.

She added that they cannot continue to live this way, but that no one would want to buy their house, except at a loss to them.

JOAN BAEZ SPEAKS

Singer Joan Baez, who sponsors the school, spoke briefly, explaining a noisy late evening gathering to which Mrs. Petkus had objected. She said she was singing and there was some folk dancing until about 10:30 p.m.

Mrs. Joan Hopkins argued on behalf of the Institute that the unfair weekend prohibition has prevented several Carmel Valley residents she knew about from attending sessions.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bare, opposing the Institute, argued that it has produced publicity that "has brought undue and unfavorable notoriety to Carmel Valley."

Ricupero new Kiwanis prexy

Joe Ricupero, jeweler, was elected president of Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

He will succeed Rex White as president when new officers take over Jan. 1.

Other new officers chosen include Kevin Walsh, vice president and Don Quinto, treas.

New board of directors will include Dr. Dean Campbell, Andy Fitzgerald, Lou Gardner, Bob Lambert, Bill Mallek, Mark Starr, Ralph Updike and White.

MRS. STEPHEN SHAFFER of Country Club Dr. was the lucky winner of a portable 19" TV set in the Carmel Valley Village give-away event for September. Drawing was Friday afternoon at 4 in front of the Village Market on Carmel Valley Rd. The sponsoring Village Committee will give away six $25 merchandise orders as October prizes in appreciation to local shoppers.

CVPOA told of brighter hopes for park in area of Jacks Peak

A private park open to the public is being included in Del Monte Properties Co. planning for the Jacks Peak area, Gordon Hall, architect and planner, disclosed, speaking at the quarterly general meeting of CV Property Owners Assoc. last week.

He explained that he represented both the Jacks Peak Trust, which owns 55 acres within the site proposed in the original Carmel Valley Master Plan, and the Association for a Monterey Pines Reserve, which is modeled after the Point Lobos League.

The State Park Commission still keeps a proposed 800-acre state Monterey Pines Park possibility "open," Hall said, although its staff recommended that a park there be local responsibility.

Supervisor Tom Hudson, who attended the meeting, said that he supports Hall's park concept, except for a state park because it would include overnight camping facilities.

Hall replied that at no point had overnight camping ever been considered for a proposed state park there.

He said that the proposed park would connect with Del Mesa Carmel's scenic easement area, making it accessible from Carmel Valley Rd. for riders and hikers.

The two groups that Hall represented are holding further discussions with Del Monte, which is further "refining" its park concept, Hall added.

County Parks Director Everet Gale, who also spoke, said there is no specific plan for a county park within Carmel Valley. He called a Monterey Pines Park "a possibility within the general plan."

Slow down!

Speed limit on most of Carmel Valley Rd. was lowered from 65 to 55 miles-an-hour by the county board of supervisors last week. This is from near the Middle School to 400 feet west of Boronda Rd.

The speed was raised on the four-lane stretch from 45 to 55 miles-an-hour from Middle School to Highway 1.

Remaining 35 miles-an-hour is the portion east of Boronda Rd.

White Oaks board seeks support for theatre program

Letters seeking contributions to help underwrite expenses of Carmel Valley's White Oaks Theatre have been mailed to area residents.

Signed by Frank Crispo, chairman of the board of directors of the "performing arts center of Monterey County," the letter emphasizes that White Oaks' staff and students spend approximately $40,000 annually in Carmel Valley.

The letter follows:

The success of White Oaks Theatre and its ability to carry on its unique internship program depends upon your support!

Students come to our Theatre from various parts of the country for extensive performance experience and further training in their chosen field of the theatre. In addition, it is White Oaks Theatre's responsibility to provide room and board for these young people who present you with a great evening of entertainment.

Did you know that the Theatre, its staff, and its students spend approximately $40,000.00 per year right in our own Valley?

In order that White Oaks Theatre can continue to be a part of Carmel Valley's cultural future we would appreciate any donation you would care to make of $1.00 or more.

Frank Crispo, Chairman
Board of Directors

C of C directors consider new by-laws

New by-laws of the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce are scheduled for discussion and adoption at a directors' meeting next Wednesday noon, Oct. 12, at Robles del Rio Lodge. All members are invited to attend.

Members are urged to review the revised by-laws, which have been mailed to all, in preparation for discussion and action at the meeting.

Also scheduled is announcement of a slate of 10 new directors nominated in preparation for election at the following meeting in November. Nomination committee includes Don McKenzie, Ken Van Hagen, Skip Marquard, Lou Gardner and Bill Norton.

Ten directors are chosen for two-year terms. Nominations will also be open from the floor.

Directors whose terms are coming to an end this year include Lou McCreery, Tom Verga, Luis Wolters, Rex White, Mrs. Pat Swan, Paul Porter, Dave Wynne, Dr. E. Marcucci, Paul Jones, Gardner and Norton.

Hold-over directors for another year are Jim Dagelen, Larry Cummings, Herb Brownell, Mrs. Hattie Jewett, Tom Hefling, Mrs. Helen Nessel, Mrs. Joan Bennett, Don McKenzie, Van Hagen and Marquard.

Grass fire caused by incinerator

An explosion in an incinerator scattered burning matter and caused a grass fire Sept. 28 at the Don Minor residence on Holman Rd. Twelve firemen operating three pieces of equipment reported no damage in the fire that covered 1/8 of an acre. The alarm was received at 11:30 a.m.

The Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Dept. was called to the backyard of the Don Draper residence on El Caminito Rd. where a small triangular grass fire was contained in a small area. It was thought to have started from a cigarette thrown from a car.

Middle School trounces PG in flag football

Flag football competition took off with a flourish at Carmel Middle School last week.

More than 65 boys are participating in the after-school sport, Coach Ralph Blumenthal disclosed.

"Everybody gets to play," he pointed out. "It's not like high school competition, for we don't cut kids out of the line-ups."

In competition with other schools, which are just getting under way, the local school finds its best athletes. But the chief aim is fun and exercise, so everybody plays most of the time at the school.

Last Saturday four teams from Carmel Middle School won two, tied one and lost one in the opener game of the Monterey League, meeting Los Arboles of Marina at Portola Junior High in Seaside.

Both of the 7th grade Middle School squads scored victories. The 7A team won 13-10 and the 7B's 19-7.

Carmel's 8A team tied 13-13 as Ward Gillette caught a 45-yard pass from Jim D'Ameral to tie the game up in the last two minutes.

Only loser was the 8B Middle School team, 19-14, in a hard-fought tilt.

"It looks like a tough league," commented Coach Blumenthal who praised the performance of the local boys. Games will be scheduled Saturdays throughout the season, although the schedule is not yet crystalized.

Last week in the first practice contests, Carmel's 8B squad took Pacific Grove 12-0 while the 8A team in a wild tilt tied the PG A boys 6-6.

"Flag football," Coach Blumenthal explained, "is not tackle football, although it's more exciting than touch fooball." The runner is stopped when a small flag strapped to his side is snatched by an opposing player. Although there is no tackling, blocking is permitted, which provides useful preparation for high school football.

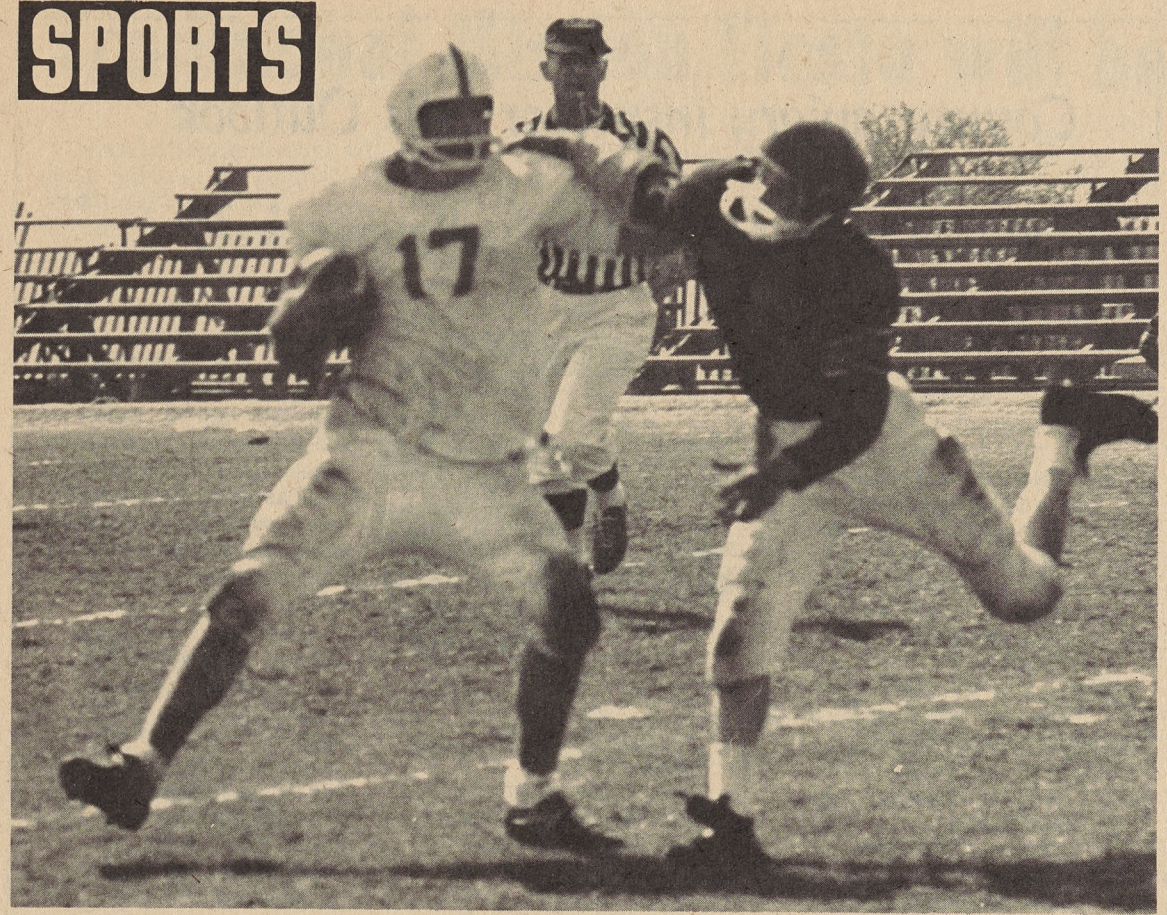
SPORTS



FOOTBALL BALLET as Mark Spindler, right, Carmel freshman quarterback, who ran an intercepted pass 85 yards for a TD, tangles with J. Norris, San Lorenzo halfback. Padre freshmen won 19-0, the JVs tied 7-7 and the outweighed Carmel varsity came through beautifully to beat San Lorenzo 19-7 on the home field. Friday night Carmel plays Live Oak High at Morgan Hill.

CHS downs Hollister in cross country

Carmel High's cross country squads went to town against Hollister there in the Mission Trail League opening meet Thursday.

The Padre varsity won 19-38 and JVs nearly swept the field.

Kim Schaurer loped in 11:24 to a comfortable first-place win for the varsity.

Others doing nicely for the Carmel varsity included Noel Mapstead 3rd place, Kevin Percival 4th, Matt Ward 5th and Bud Phelps 6th.

On the Junior Varsity the local boys picked up everything but first. Placing were Ron Hays in 2nd spot with a 12:43 time, Mike Most 3rd, Chris Manke 4th, Steve Most 5th, Gregg Scott 6th and Phil Goulding 7th.

Next meet, this Thursday, Oct. 6, is "center meet" on a neutral field, at Soquel High, with all teams of the Mission Trail League competing.

Middle School football contest

A football passing and kicking contest is scheduled at Carmel Middle School Friday afternoon, beginning at 3:30.

The second year for the contest, it is first step in a state-wide, then national competition for elementary school boys.

Chiefly for boys 9 to 13, some boys from the lower-grade elementary schools in the district will also participate.

County apiary inspector tells Outlook readers how to control yellow jackets

Here are the facts on the "yellowjacket" problem, spotlighted in a recent letter to the editor by Jean Graham. The following was written on the subject by M.C. Smotherman, apiary inspector in the county agricultural commissioner's office, Salinas:

I am writing to you and your stung readers in reference to your letter-to-the-editor on the "Valley Invasion" by Jean Graham.

There has been a widespread problem with the common yellow jacket (vespula diabolica) in Monterey County this year. We can narrow them down to two major causes: a very mild winter and a large build-up of the California oak moth (phryganidia californica). This has created a large food supply for the yellow jackets to build on.

The yellow jacket is an important insect, but please do not confuse the working duties of the yellow jackets and our little pollinators, the honey bees (apis mellifera), because there is a big difference.

The most effective control is to eradicate entire colonies within nests. A second choice, where nests cannot be found, is to use traps and baits.

NEST ERADICATION

A concealed nest may often be located by following the insects back to the nest. In order to avoid being stung, it is safer after locating the nest, to wait and apply control measures at night.

A colony of ground-nesting yellow jackets may be eradicated by placing any good insecticidal fumigant in the hole, then plugging the opening.

For colonies in the above-ground, paper-like nests may be eradicated by thoroughly wetting the nest, including the area around the entrance, with a good contact spray.

An ordinary household spray containing 5% DDT or 2 to 2-1/2% chlordane may be used undiluted, or these materials may be purchased as liquid concentrates or wettable powders and diluted with water to these same concentrations. Or a spray of sufficient strength may be prepared by using the same proportions as recommended on the label for ants. Effective control can also be obtained by thoroughly dusting the entrance to either type of nest with a 5% chlordane or 10% DDT dust.

BAITS AND TRAPS

If nests cannot be found, the insects may be trapped with baits such as raw meat, fish, fruit, or whatever they will take at the time. Adult yellow jackets gather animal materials such as meat when there are young to be fed; otherwise they feed upon liquid sweets or ripe fruit.

Several types of traps are on the market. All are effective if properly cared for and if the bait is changed frequently. One type simply traps the insects in a baited container from which they cannot escape; in another the bait is poisoned with an arsenical compound such as lead arsenate, Paris green, or sodium arsenite.

With the latter type the householder must use extreme care to prevent children, pets, or birds from reaching the bait. It may be placed inside an old bird cage, or perforated cans with tight-fitting lids, and suspended high enough in trees to safeguard children and with the bait far enough inside cages to be out of reach of birds.

Traps provide less satisfactory control than direct eradication within nests. For the protection of an extensive area, such as a large picnic ground, a large number would be required. For the home patio fewer would be required for control.

For more information you can write to the Office of Information, U.S. D.A., Washington, D.C., and request Leaflet L365, which is free of charge for one copy.

Good luck.

Traditional Mission Fiesta will be celebrated on Sunday

Carmel Mission Basilica will again celebrate the colorful and traditional Fiesta de San Carlos de Borromeo this Sunday from noon until 5 p.m.

The historical Fiesta de San Carlos honoring the patron saint of the Basilica dates back to the founding of the Mission in the days of Father Junipero Serra. After a lapse of 27 years, the Fiesta was successfully revived in 1964.

The Fiesta Committee has planned a varied program of entertainment that promises to make Fiesta 1966 a fun-filled event for the entire family. The public is invited to join the celebration.

The celebration on Sunday will begin at 11 a.m. when a High Mass will be offered in the Basilica by Bishop Harry Clinch, pastor. Following the Mass, the children's choir of Junipero Serra School will participate in the procession leading to the courtyard from the Basilica.

A chicken barbecue will be served in the quadrangle from noon to 5 p.m. Tickets for the barbecue may be purchased at the gate or in advance at the Central Box Office in Carmel. Prices are $2.00 for adults, $1.00 for children.

Booths for refreshments and games for children and adults will be set up in the courtyard. Pinatas for the children will be provided every hour for different age groups.

Music and entertainment in the patio will feature the dancing of the "Cuadro Espanol" group including Moreno, Lourdres Rodrigues, and Teresa Parry who have successfully toured through California. Choreography for the "Cuadro Espanol" has been directed by the dynamic Valencian dancer, "Amparo."

Manuel Campos and his Mariachi Band, who have entertained at the previous Carmel Fiestas, will again be on hand. Songs by Jose Romero of the Defense Language Institute will be presented.

A teen dance will be held in Crespi Hall from 2 to 5 p.m. "Live" music will be furnished by the popular four-piece combo known as "The Morticians" which features Jim Trivitte on bass, Doug Cunningham on lead guitar, Mark Sloan on drums, and Ron Sorris' rhythm guitar. Admission to the dance will be 50¢.

With the help and supervision of the faculty, students of Junipero Serra School are busy making Spanish costumes for the Fiesta. All who attend the Fiesta are encouraged to wear Spanish or Mexican dress.

Outlook On Carmel

CARMEL VALLEY OUTLOOK — October 5, 1966

FIRST WOMAN MANAGER in the entire Crocker-Citizens National Bank chain will be Mrs. Ramona Weer, assistant manager of the bank's Carmel branch, who will take over as manager of its new branch, to be built at the Carmel Valley Shopping Center. She is shown with Pres. Emmett G. Solomon of Crocker-Citizens, making the announcement of her appointment at ground-breaking ceremonies for the bank Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Weer has been with the Carmel branch of the bank for 18 years. Her husband, Lloyd Weer, recently retired as manager of PG & E there.

Noted celebrities will highlight Carmel's 100th

Carmel as a creative center will be spotlighted during its Golden Anniversary celebration Oct. 21-31, Gunnar Norber, city councilman and chairman of the celebration, emphasized this week.

A distinguished panel will discuss "Carmel Writers—Their Story" at a time to be announced. Moderated by author Adella Rogers St. John, who recently returned to make her home in Carmel, it will also include Martin Flavin, Pulitzer Prize author who is the only playwright to have three plays running simultaneously on Broadway, and Mona Williams, fiction writer who has a long poem in the August "Cosmopolitan" magazine.

Another panel discussion will cover "Carmel—Photographer's Haven." Featured will be noted photographers Ansel Adams and Wynn Bullock with Cole Weston, son of the late, great photographer Edward Weston. A film on the life and works of Edward Weston will be shown at the newly-opened Village Theatre following the discussion.

Another fascinating feature scheduled the evening of Oct. 28 at Brey Hall, will be a talk on "They Chose Carmel—and They Still Do" by the noted psychiatrist, lecturer and author, Dr. Eric Berne, who will discuss famous people of Carmel and its appeal to them. Dr. Berne is author of the recent best-seller, "Games People Play."

People who have been generous to Carmel in their lifetime and in their wills will be remembered. A discussion explaining the many gifts and bequests to the city and city agencies will feature John Morse, former Carmel councilman, now a Montana rancher; Fred Duhring, city treasurer and head of the library board, and Geza St. Galy, chairman of the Carmel Arts Commission.

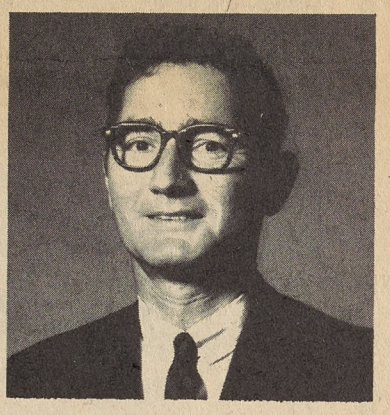
Music will also figure prominently in the Anniversary affair. Gilbert Boyer, who has just returned from an international concert tour, will give a piano recital at Sunset Auditorium Oct. 21 at 8:30.

The following evening, a Carmel Youth concert will be presented.

The next evening, Oct. 23, the noted Beyer String Trio with Wade Parks, pianist, and Raymond Fabrizio, flutist, will perform.

Admission to most events will be free, but tickets will be $1.50 for each of the three weekend performances of Rogers and Hammerstein's "Pipe Dream," based on a John Steinbeck novel. City Councilman William Sefton is in charge of ticket sales, from which some of the costs of the celebration are expected to be defrayed.

Joins NPGS faculty



A NEW CARMEL resident is Dr. Sydney R. Parker, formerly professor of electrical engineering at the University of Houston, who has joined the faculty of the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey. A specialist in circuit theory and control systems, Parker taught electrical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the City University of New York. He was also employed for five years at RCA's Advance Development Group at Camden, N.J., during the early development of digital computers. The Parkers are making their home at 122 Ribera, Carmel.

Actor Don Keefer will perform for Woman's Club

"Anton Chekhov and the Human Comedy" is the subject of a one-man performance to be presented by Don Keefer, actor on stage, screen and television, when he appears before the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday, Oct. 3, at 2 p.m., for the opening of the Club year.

Assisting on the Hostess Committee for the meeting are Mrs. Ray Esplen, Mrs. H.A. Prince, Mrs. Della C. Williams and Miss Hazel Zimmerman.

As is traditional at the first meeting, past presidents will preside at the tea tables. Serving will be Miss Ianthe Densmore, Mrs. Alexander W. Cleary, Mrs. Rhea M. Diveley and Mrs. H.C. Schroeder.

New manager welcomed to Peninsula

C. MARK THOMAS (left) amuses Mrs. Graeme Mackenzie, Mrs. Thomas and Mr. Mackenzie with dialects from Scotland as they await the 300 guests who attended the reception which the Thomas family gave for the newly arrived Mackenzies last week. The reception was to welcome Mackenzie as the new general manager of the Mark Thomas Inn, and his attractive wife who is a professional fashion coordinator. Thomas, who is president of the Mark Thomas Inn and other Peninsula enterprises, met Mackenzie in Hong Kong where the young Scotsman was with the Mandarin Hotel as company secretary. Mackenzie has held top management positions in Bermuda hotels, London restaurant chains and Eastern United States. He was in San Francisco with the hotel-consulting firm of Harris, Kerr and Foster and dietary adminstrator of St. Mary's Hospital there.

Day School offers special course in Italic Script

All Saints' Episopal Day School announces a beginning course in Italic Script. Scheduled to begin on Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 9:30 a.m. in the Vera Millis Memorial Library of All Saints' Episcopal Church, 9th and Lincoln Streets in Carmel, the class will continue to meet each Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. until 10:30 a.m. for a period of six weeks.

The fee for the course is $20, which covers the cost of all materials.

According to the Italic teacher, Mrs. Peter Farmer, no previous knowledge of special handwriting or script is necessary. The class will use the new Fred Eager series of Trace and Copy books.

Since the class is limited to 12 students, the Day School administration asks that interested students pre-register by telephoning 624-9171.

CARMELO 4-H

BY JANET POWERS

Carmelo 4-H Club picnic at Pfeiffer Big Sur State Park was a great success.

The picnic was well-planned with hot dogs, hamburgers, salad, and cakes for lunch.

A softball game was held with John Jinishian and Paul Ingram acting as captains. John's team won with a score of 18-13.

Everyone had a good time and are all looking forward to the Club's next planned activity, a trip to the Junior Grand National at the Cow Palace.

YOUTHFUL ARTISTS participated in the art section of the Fiesta de los Amigos. Here is Carey Crockett, demonstrating a drawing, seated beneath a large bull picture he did. Other young artists whose works were displayed included Thad and Edward Sigourney, Tegan and Benje Speiser, and Alex and Kathryn Blevens. Also shown was an exhibit by young artists from Tularcitos School, arranged by Robert Skiles, art instructor. Betty O'Neal was chairman of the youth art exhibit.

Valley artists star at Fiesta

Fiesta de los Amigos was a show-case for local artists at Holman's Guest Ranch. The art program was coordinated by Mrs. Rex Pryer.

Attracting crowds were artists demonstrating their skill in arts and crafts during the afternoon.

Potters included Rudy Marzi, Virginia De Maria and Jim Fosnot. Zane Speiser and Jim Fosnot did metal sculpture.

Doing weaving was Tegan Speiser, wood constructions, Eve Tartar Brown, oil painting Jeanne Wilsdon, metal casting Dennis Wagner, batik Harry Conley, silk screen process Fred and Jean Hofsas.

A continuous demonstration was staged by Carmel Valley Gem and Mineral Society, with Palmer Olson in charge.

Other artists, craftsmen and writers who exhibited their works, with many present during the afternoon, were:

Painters—Ed Armstrong, Robert Hoag, Jean Kellog Dickie, Jack Swanson, Marlinde von Ruhs, William Walker, Margaret Ziegler.

Cartoonists—Bob Barnes, Frank O'Neal, Fred Toole, Al Parker (also illustrator.)

Potters—Peg Bowen, Susan Haberfeld, Mrs. Robert Hoag,

Stained glass—Loren Christensen, Vern Lefever, Louise Pullen.

Photographers — Eileen Dufur, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cooper, George T.C. Smith, James Ziegler.

Writers—Betty Antoncich, Vivian Breck, Elizabeth Clemons (Mrs. Arthur Robinson), Louise Grigsby, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen James, Beulah Powers, Virginia Stanton.

Sculptors—Gerard Gerstl, Robert Hoag.

Weavers—Anna and Joe Burgess.

Jeweler—Joe Ricupero.

Leo Stuckens marks third year with Monterey County Symphony

Carmel Valley musician Leo Stuckens will mark his third year with the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra when he participates in the first concerts of the season on Oct. 17 in the Salinas High School auditorium and on Oct. 18 in the Carmel Sunset auditorium.

A native of Antwerp, Belgium, he studied at the Royal Conservatory. He and his wife, Margaret, make their home on Country Club Dr.

All six of their children play an instrument, but Leo steals the spotlight with his viola on the Symphony stage.

This year's Monterey County Symphony Orchestra has also added 13 new members to the musical roster including Greg Sprung of Carmel, Constance Harner from Monterey and Merry L'Argent of Pacific Grove. Salinas is represented by Jane Griner and Evelyn Donges, with Fort Ord contributing a contingent comprised of Carolyn Wilson, Mel Won, Charles Parker, David Schaad and William Flowers. Journeying all the way from San Jose is Cathleen Warfield, and Michael and Barry Fader, formerly with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra round out the musical complement.

The program for the 21st season of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra will feature music of the late Renaissance. Although performances for the Sunset auditorium programs are sold out, Carmel Valley residents may purchase tickets for the Salinas Concert Series by writing to the Symphony Box Office at 342 Main St. in Salinas.

'Night Must Fall' opens Playhouse theatre season

A cast of veteran actors has been chosen to perform the psychological suspense drama, "Night Must Fall," the season's first production of the Hartnell-Community Playhouse, scheduled Oct. 21, 22, 28 and 29.

Bettina Hainds, who acted in the Playhouse production of "Richard III" and "Auntie Mame" last year, has the lead of Mrs. Bremson.

Ron Stark will take the part of Dan. Stark played a major role in "Auntie Mame," and performed in repertory this summer at the White Oaks Theatre in Carmel Valley.

Other Playhouse veterans include Jana Johns, as Nurse Libby; Susan Bennett, as Olivia Grayne; Kathy O'Grady as Dora; Robert Gorssman as Belsize.

John Gilbreath will play Lord Chief Justice; Kirk Schufele, Hubert Laurie; Lisa Nunlist, Mrs. Terence.

Production staff under stage-manager Robert Clark will include Joyce Revis, properties; Susan Bennett, wardrobe; Barbara Thompson, makeup chairman; Karen Silliman, programs; Lloyd Severzon and Sandy Plumlee, lighting.

Auditions for Opera Workshop Monday night

Auditions for the opera "Cavalleria Rusticana," to be repeated this season by the Nancy Ness Bowman Operatic Workshop will continue on Monday evening at 7:30 in the music room of the Carmel High School.

At the same time, depending on the number and character of the voices "found" in these auditions, a second opera will be selected for later presentation.

Rehearsals for the chorus of the opera are already under way. With a round score of singers now at hand, considerable progress in this direction is already evident, she said.

Individuals desiring to be considered for the opera auditions may secure further information and appointments by phoning Mrs. Bowman at 624-1072.

Dooley Gallery features paintings by Lindberg, Ward during October

Keith Lindberg and Edward Norton Ward are guest artists at Dooley Gallery in Carmel through Oct. 15.

Lindberg, who has been painting in the Carmel area for five years, is a former Kansan and a product of the Chicago Art Institute. He has exhibited in the Mid-America Show in Kansas City, the Lee Gallery in Carmel, the Entrepreneur in Fresno, and the White Oaks Gallery in Carmel Valley.

A colorist with a distinctive palette reminiscent of Cezanne and Derain, Lindberg dwells on moody reflections of people particularly. His landscapes are poetic summarizations of trees and valleys which could be anywhere.

Edward Norton Ward, a native Californian, has also painted in the Monterey Bay area for several years. His early education was received in Southern California. Later he served as First Lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force during the Korean war.

A member of the Society of Western Artists, he has exhibited in many galleries in northern and southern California. He travels extensively searching for subjects and his paintings capture the rural California scene with warmth and sensitivity. Both he and Mr. Lindberg are members of the Carmel Art Association.

Recent paintings by Helen B. Dooley will also be shown in the gallery during this month, and a new group of enamels by Ree Mantz of San Francisco will add an interesting touch of variety to this exhibition. The gallery is open from 11 to 5 daily, and on Sundays from 2 to 4 p.m.

Art auction at House of Four Winds

An art auction, offering work of well-known Peninsula and San Francisco artists, is scheduled at 2 p.m. this Saturday, Oct. 8 at the historic adobe, House of the Four Winds, on Calle Principal, Monterey.

Sponsored by local Democratic units, proceeds of the auction will be used to assist candidates. The art work may be viewed beginning at 10 a.m.

Hats off for La Fiesta de los Amigos

PERUVIAN PASO STALLION, "Senorial," staged a high-stepping exhibition, under the perfect control of his owner, Joseph A. Gavitt of Los Gatos, at the Fiesta de los Amigos. The performance was impressive because of the close quarters of the surrounding crowd and that it was the first time the horse had performed on pavement.

COOPERATION being the keynote of the Fiesta de los Amigos, representatives of Carmel Valley churches joined together to offer a blessing at the Madonna statue near White Oaks Gallery as the parade was about to start. From left they are Fr. James C. Voytko of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Catholic Church, Rev. Don Johnson of CV Community Chapel, Rev. Jim Brock of St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church, and Fr. Robert Kincaid, a chaplain at the Navy Postgraduate School.

Computerized test package will aid teachers in measuring student achievements

Principal Warren Edwards of Carmel High and Phil Nash, director of the MPC Data Processing Center, spent Friday at the IBM Center, Oakland, studying computer reporting of standardized tests.

Edwards explained that the computer at the MPC Center will be used this year to speed sorting out and tabulation of student information useful for different purposes.

"It will be valuable," he said, "to pick out test results exactly as needed. We will be able to package information wanted by guidance counselors, students or parents.

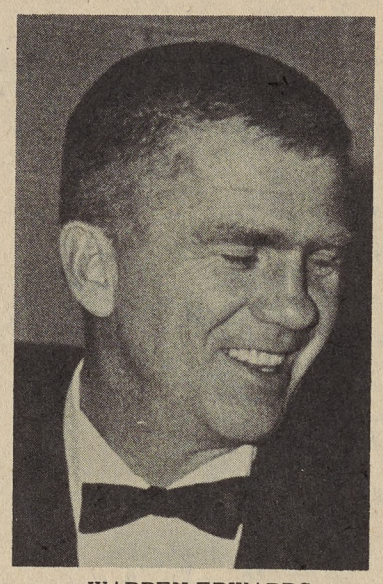
"It's something like a supermarket—you have a general list and then choose just what you want, with help of the computer."

Edwards and Nash conferred with Charles F. Wilkes, noted systems analyist who developed IBM's program to score, convert and report results of standardized tests, known as "FAST," which stands for "fully automatic scoring technique."

21 TESTS

"FAST" was first developed by Wilkes when he was with the Richmond, Calif., School District; it has since been used throughout the U.S. and some foreign countries.

Edwards said that a total of 21 different standardized tests are scheduled to be given grades



WARREN EDWARDS

1 through 12 in the Carmel Unified School District.

This includes one additional test for seniors this year at Carmel High, a Strong Vocational Interest Inventory test.

The battery of 21 tests given at local schools begins in the first grade with the Stanford Reading Test, Primary 1 level, which is scheduled in May.

California Achievement tests given nearly every year starting in the second grade, are products of Monterey's well-known Cal Test center.

Other Stanford Reading Tests are given in grades two, three and four.

Second, fourth and eighth graders also get California Tests of Mental Maturity.

In the ninth and 11th grades SCAT or School and College Ability Tests and STEP or Sequential Tests of Educational Progress are given.

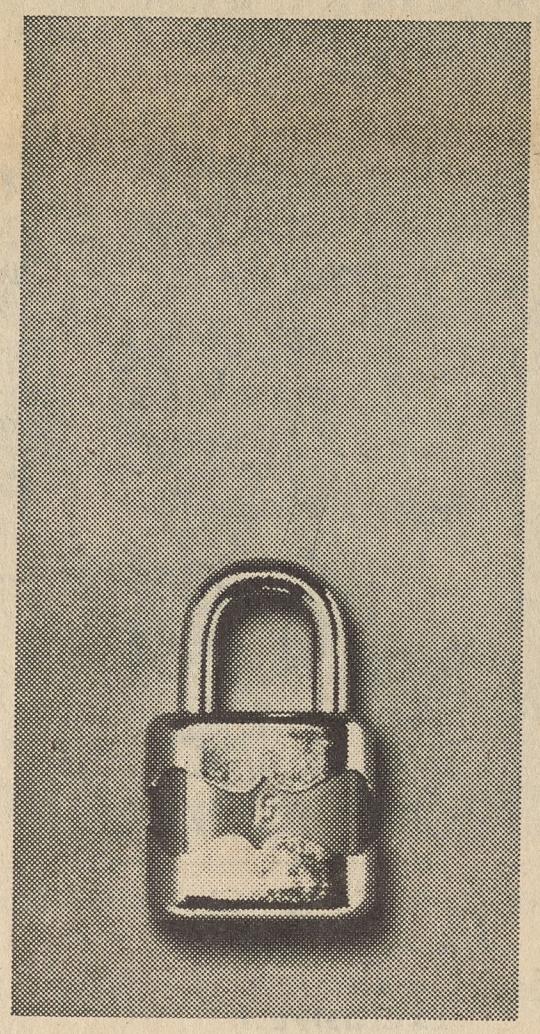
TESTS VALUABLE

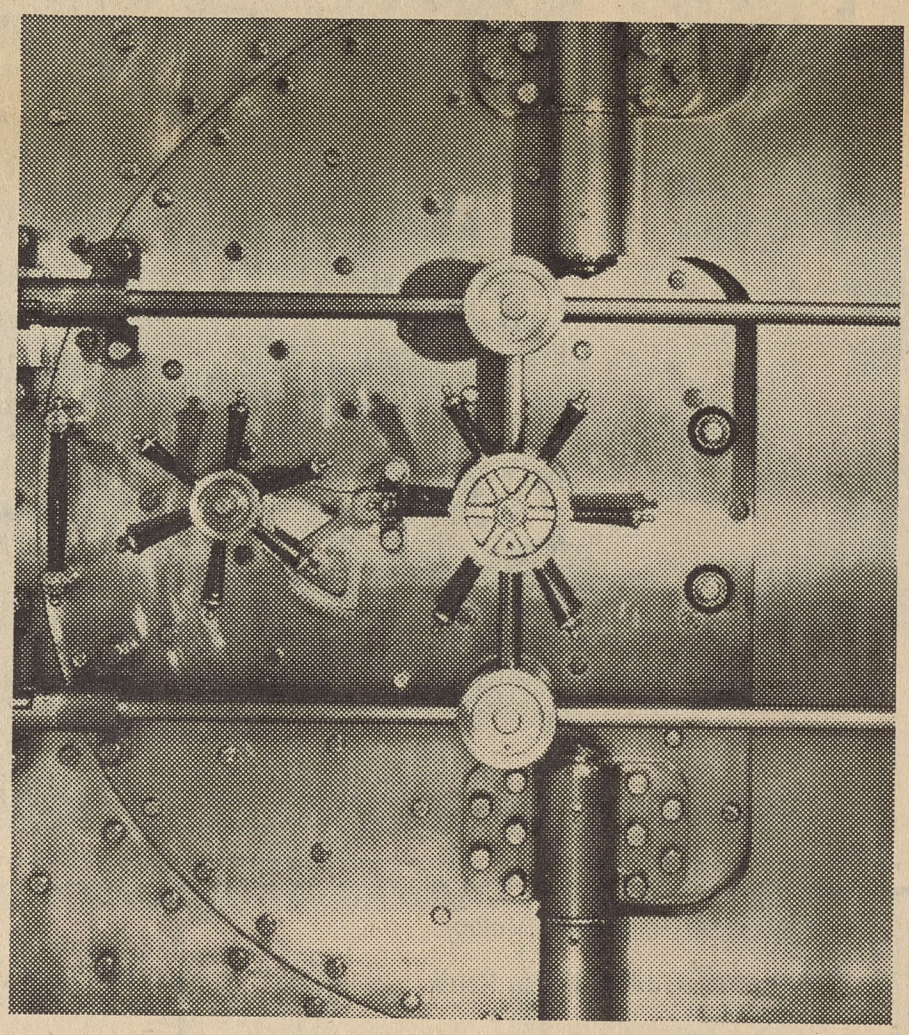
Tenth graders take the Differential Aptitude Test or DAT, the Kuder Interest Inventory which is voluntary, the Large-Thorndike IQ test and Test of Academic Progress or TAP.

While this list may sound over-whelming, Edwards pointed out that the students take them in their stride and the tests provide a variety of useful information for students, counselors and interested parents.

He added that a problem with educators is selection of the best tests for their situation, because the market is flooded with a variety of tests produced by nearly all book publishers and other educational firms.

CHS adds annex to library





Carmel High School library this year added more than half again its space by conversion of a former classroom into a library annex.

Room 7 on the upper corridor is now housing language, science and technology materials. Separate partitioned areas there accomodate the microfilm reader and books reserved by students and teachers.

The auxiliary library room also has tables for student or teacher use, and an office for Vicki Hema, clerk in charge, who works under Eleanor Crouch, librarian.

The room last year was a teacher work-room and duplicating center. Before that it was known as "the brown tunnel" because the windows were painted dark to facilitate movies; it was the school's original "large-group instruction room," predecessor to Brey Hall for instruction of large groups.

Principal Warren Edwards said that the present main library room in the High School was built in 1941 when the school had 275 students. Although the auxiliary room added this fall helps greatly, he said there is need for more space and facilities.

Paperback books have helped greatly, he added, because three or so paperback books can be bought to one hardcover book. This has multiplied available books, which is very helpful to satisfy fast-changing informational needs.

How much safety do you want for your money?

Financial safety comes in all shapes and sizes. There are safe investments and risky investments—and ones that are in between. Depending upon how much risk you want to take, your money can be invested in a variety of ways.

Your savings, however, are another thing. This is money you do not want to risk—no matter how safe the investment appears. This is money you want to be able to count on at all times and under all conditions. And when you want your money that safe and that available—you want it in the bank.

under the oaks & among the cacti

By Mildred Hattan

Mrs. Vivian Ogden Holman entered her courtyard early the next morning following the Fiesta Ball and discovered a raccoon enjoying both the morsels left from the midnight snacks and the return of serenity to the Holman Ranch. It was the first time in a long time that his realm had not been invaded by members of the Carmel Valley Women's Club and the veritable army recruited to make the Fiesta an unforgettable success.

While breakfasting, he found time for "De requerdos de la Fiesta de los Amigos" and a few of his "memorias" we pass on to you...The mysterious barefoot, sombreroed "dark horse" who entered the Beard Contest only to be disqualified when it was discovered that under the dark glasses lurked Gene Baker in crepe hair and glue...The Carmel Valley Garden Assoc. which submitted the lowest expense account. They spent a shocking $1...The incongruous sight of the William Kellner's son in the garb of a padre sitting in with the hot combo...Pretty Jeannine Bottaro, who put many hours into publicizing the affair, arriving at the Ball in a gown of black lace over red taffeta with fresh gardenias tucked in her mantilla. Jeannine and husband, Tom, left the next morning for a holiday in Hawaii where they were met in Honolulu by Jeannine's sister, Barbara Viljoen, and will be the guests of her father at Kona, Mr. W.E. Viljoen...

Al Friedenthal departing for a meeting, leaving his wife, Elizabeth, and Elizabeth Hoisington making meat balls for the hors d'oeuvres table, only to come home from the meeting to find them still making meat balls, only to retire and wake up in the wee small hours to find them STILL making meat balls...Running out of storage space for a million meat balls, the two Elizabeths were seen (by the Shadow) accompanying a pajama-clad Mrs. Nick Skalyo down a darkened Country Club Drive where they entered an unoccupied house and utilized the large, empty refrigerator...Mrs. Mark Fields announcing entries for the song contest had been received from as far away as Grosse Point, Mich., San Diego, and Santa Barbara...

Felica and Sterling Mummert adding a colorful and festive touch to their grounds on Holman Road that were enjoyed by the many who passed that way enroute to the Fiesta. In addition to the parrot and pinatas, signs proclaimed the site as "Pequeno, Mexico" and "Casa Mumerto"...Mal Tavares on the business end of a saw, "shaping" tables and chairs that were too large to be moved from the dance area so that they would fit through the door...Former Valley resident Maxine Ijams accompanied by her daughters, Rusty and Jenny, and her mother down from their home in San Jose for the day..Mrs. Richard Lee, hard working chairman of the children's parade, seen helping push the hay wagon through fresh tar and gravel when the load of children bogged down...Kristi Weber kissing her bearded father, Don, goodnight, only to wake the next morning to find a clean-shaven man in the house whose existence she refused to acknowledge...

The declaration of a Valley husband whose home filled with costumes and Fiesta preparations that it was beginning to resemble a Tijuana Thrift Shop...Louella Ollason, chairman of the decorating committee, wearing a Spanish gown and mantilla of heavenly blue, complimenting the lovely setting created by members of her committee. With husband, Irving, the Ollasons were seen dining earlier at Will's Fargo with the Tom Vergas and the Al Friedenthals...The congenial Sheriff's deputy who proved to be a gem among jewels by not only cooking some of the tiny meat balls, but also helping to serve them...Sam Brandt, whose patter brought forth many interesting side notes of nostalgia at the Ball by requesting that the audience "Think back 17 years to our last Fiesta and the people who aren't here tonight"...

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Antoncich hosting a pre-Fiesta brunch at their home on Upper Circle. Guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Barron. Former Valley resident, the Barrons now make their home at Yankee Point. Following the luncheon, Gerry, Democratic candidate for Congress, received a telephone call from Vice-President Hubert Humphrys, requesting that he meet his plane in Los Angeles. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Barron, Jr., and daughter, Mary; Mrs. Bettie O'Neal, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Parker...Sandy and Michele Joyet, greeting their many friends and former neighbors from their new home in Santa Cruz...The Charles Callahan's son, Brian, unable to tempt his tired pony "Gringo" with dinner after the good-natured little critter had made many foot prints in the parade and while taking children for rides at the ranch in his cart...

Lecture on LSD at MPC Armory Friday evening

Dr. Sidney Cohen, a leader in the research of LSD, will discuss the controversial drug in an evening lecture at the Armory at Monterey Peninsula College Friday, Oct. 7, at 8 p.m.

Free tickets may be obtained in the college administration building or by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Community Services Office at MPC.

Dr. Cohen's appearance here is being co-sponsored by the Monterey County Mental Health Assoc.

Author of more than 75 scientific papers, Dr. Cohen explored LSD in the "The Beyond Within: The LSD Story," published in 1964, and in "LDS," published this year.

Dr. Cohen's lecture is the first in MPC's fall evening lecture series. Other lecturers will be Valery Tarsis, Russian novelist; Gore Vidal, novelist, playwright and critic; Art Buchwald, humorist columnist; Dr. Han Suyin, author of "Love Is a Many-Splendored Thing;" and Sir Alec Douglas Home, former Prime Minister of Great Britain.

The Rhyming Philosopher

In the springtime, buds are blooming,
And we're quite correct assuming
There'll be summer and then autumn in the Fall.
All the fruits and nuts have ripened,
But we've never once been frightened
Fearing Nature might not function after all.

With the field correctly seeded
Followed by the care that's needed,
Then the farmer knows there's bound to be a crop.
But if water is forgotten,
Or the seed is foul and rotten,
What results may be disaster hard to stop.

Thus the common law of Nature
Works in life and legislature,
Like when poison oak takes over—that's a pest.
If the farmer's not alerted
And controls at once asserted,
You're in trouble, Brother Neighbor: Be my guest.

So you say you're not a farmer,
And I'm just a false alarmer—
Well, just look around and count subversive weeds.
Once the poison oak gets rooted
There'll be other pests recruited,
For the tallest trees grew up from tiny seeds.

Crocker-Citizens groundbreaking ceremonies

Ramona Weer named manager of new CV bank

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held Thursday afternoon on the site of a new $150,000 building to be erected immediately in the Carmel Valley Shopping Center for Crocker-Citizens National Bank.

The keynote address was delivered by Emmett G. Solomon, Crocker-Citizens president, who extended a welcome to an audience of some 70 persons and voiced his company's appreciation of the opportunity to serve the people of the Carmel Valley from this new location, which will become the sixth Crocker-Citizens bank on the Monterey Peninsula.

Solomon also announced the appointment of Mrs. Ramona Weer, now assistant manager of the Carmel office, as manager of the Carmel Valley Crocker-Citizens branch.

MCing the program was Herb Brownell, veteran local realtor.

George Clemens, speaking on behalf of the developers, replied to Pres. Solomon's remarks by extending a warm welcome to Crocker-Citizens Bank as one of the key tenants of the shopping center.

CROCKER FAMILIAR NAME

Clemens pointed out that the name Crocker has been familiar to the Monterey Peninsula for over 50 years. He recalled that his "first contact with the name Crocker was a humble one—as a youngster some 45 years ago I carried golf bags for W.W. Crocker and his son at Pebble Beach.

"Needless to say, I never expected that the day would come to pass when I would have the pleasure of signing my name to a lease involving the Crocker name."

He praised Crocker-Citizens' management for agreeing on the "first-class treatment of the bank and center by Architect Olof Dahlstrand."

"On behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Craft, Mrs. Clemens and myself, we say a most enthusiastic welcome to Carmel Valley Shopping Center," Clemens added. "Please note that I have included the wives in the welcome—they put the money in but the men borrow it right out again. What could be more fair?"

Pres. Solomon traced the long-time connection with Del Monte Properties and Crocker. It was Charles Crocker's land which became Del Monte Properties and he was involved in naming a young man from Merced, Samuel F.B. Morse, to head the development. Morse, who was present Thursday, was a director of the Crocker bank for many years and is also a member of the advisory committee of Crocker-Citizens.

HERB BROWNELL, long-time realtor, MC'd the groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Crocker-Citizens National Bank building at the new Carmel Valley Shopping Center near Farm Center. He reminisced about the amazing growth in local land values and recalled that he had turned down as too high an offer of $2,500 an acre for the shopping center site in 1955. Buildings in the area are in some cases leasing for as high as $5 a square foot, he said. He introduced about 70 prominent guests in attendance.

Center developers; Frank Porter, pioneer Carmel Valley resident and father of co-developer Paul Porter; Mrs. Ramona Weer, now assistant manager, Carmel Crocker-Citizens office, who has been appointed to manage the new Carmel Valley Crocker-Citizens office; Emmett G. Solomon, president, Crocker-Citizens National Bank; George M. Clemens, Carmel Valley Shopping Center developer; S.F.B. Morse, chairman of the board, Del Monte Properties Co.; Paul E. Hoover, chairman of the board, Crocker-Citizens Bank.

Mrs. Lester Golden thumbing rides for her charges on the hay wagon when it failed to pull the hills... An appropriate menu of lasagna was served by Mr. and Mrs. Don Swiess to their pre-Ball dinner guests at their home on River Rd. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baker, Mr. and Mrs. John Urlin, Mr. and Mrs. Bim Yuma, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cummings, Mrs. Larry Busick, and Mrs. Mary Johnson... Buffie Collins, head bent in her beautiful white mantilla, paying homage to "Fr. Morden Buck," whose padre robes were described by MC Sam Brandt as "the greatest piece of showmanship and winner of the best costumed figure at the Ball"... Donna and Jack Barnhart mingling with the crowd. Jack had returned just in time from a flying business trip with stops at Chicago, New York, Montreal, and Ottawa...

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gem introducing themselves from Hillsborough. They had come down just for the Fiesta and were staying at Pebble Beach... A pre-dance dinner given by Shirley and Charles Callahan at their home on Via Contenta was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rather, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Swanson, Mrs. Patricia De Amaral, Ed Wright, and Mr. and Mrs. T.G. Oldham. Mary and T.G. Oldham are Patricia's cousins from Dallas, Tex., who have taken a home in Carmel for a month...

Maggie and Kyle Lifson marching in the parade in handsome "mother and son" black and white charro suits...heads under hoods of over-heated old-time cars parked on the upgrade of Holman Rd. jarred memories of those old enough to remember the good old days.. "Lundin's Casa Rosa" was the name given to the gaily decorated suite at the ranch where Honey and Jack served a delicious ham and turkey buffet to friends and out of town guests. Honey in exquisite black lace and Jack a dashing Don Juan were deluged with compliments for the tremendous job done by them on the Cantania which they chairmanned...

Among those entering "Casa Rosa" marked with twinkling lights and baskets of roses were Dr. and Mrs. William Lifson, Mrs. Vivian Ogden Holman with her brother and wife who were guests from Pebble Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jansen of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Galloway, Mr. and Mrs. the courtyard to change from her western garb of the afternoon. Jack had just returned from a fishing trip at the home of his brother, Reed, in northern British Columbia where members of his party caught a 23" steehead on a dry fly.

Jones, Stewart entered at Oct. SCRAMP races

Monterey Grand Prix drivers, the weekend of Oct. 14-16, will be competing not only for the $30,000 in prize money posted for the Laguna Seca classic but also for a share in the more than $320,000 in prize and accessory money which has been guaranteed in the brand new Canadian-American Challenge Cup series of races, of which the local event will be No. 4.

Already entered in the Monterey Grand Prix are such noted drivers as Jackie Stewart, the speedy Scot who drove so brilliantly in this year's Indianapolis "500," and Parnelli Jones, one of the great American driving stars of all time.

Laguna Seca is being groomed in preparation for the influx of cars which are faster than ever. SCRAMP, sponsors of the Monterey Grand Prix, has done extensive repaving of the race circuit, has had electricity brought into the track area, and has had one of the main entry roads rebuilt.

Tickets for the 1966 Monterey Grand Prix are on sale. General admission for the October events is $1.00 Friday, $3.00 Saturday, $5.00 Sunday, all three days, $7.00. Paddock passes, which admit holders to the racing pits, are priced at $16.00.

Tularcitos parents plan carnival

Dr. John Davis conducted the first Parents Club meeting Tuesday night at the Tularcitos elementary school.

The evening included an introduction of the executive board, including Mr. Richard Kern, vice president; Mrs. Frank Sclawy, recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Boehme, treasurer, and Mrs. John Senger, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Richard Lee is Membership chairman, Mrs. Don Condren, program chairman, and Mrs. Dorothy Byers, social chairman.

Luther Askew's sixth grade home room won the $5 prize for having the most parents in attendance.

Principal William Mallek introduced his staff and invited the parents to visit the home rooms of each child for a scheduling and discussion of curriculum for the coming year.

It was announced that the executive board had agreed to hold the halloween carnival as the major fund raising project for the year. Mrs. Zane Speiser and Mrs. Mel Blevens are "co-witches" for the affair and will be assisted by room mothers and any parents willing to volunteer.

The carnival is scheduled for Oct. 29 from 5-8 p.m. Families are invited to begin planning costumes for the evening of fun.

THE Cookery Corner

Judging from her directions on how to turn flank steak and spinach into a dinner worthy of serving your most honored guests, Helen Giem should be one of Carmel Valley's most honored cooks. Helen keeps the books for her husband Harry's Mobil station, but when she's home she' mostly in the garden cultivating herbs along with the flowers or "throwing things together" in the kitchen.

Flank Steak Casserole

3 lbs. flank steak
2 T. flour
Pinch each of mace, curry powder, and cayenne pepper

3 lbs. flank steak
2 T. flour
1-1/2 t. salt
1/3 t. black pepper
1/4 t. powdered cloves
Pinch each of curry powder, and cayenne pepper
1/2 cup red wine
1/2 cup beef consomme
assorted vegetables to bake around steak

Rub steak with damp cloth. Pound on both sides with wooden mallet after sprinkling with the flour and seasonings. Spread with dressing, roll up like a jelly roll and tie securely with string. Rub with bacon fat and brown under broiler, turning till brown on all sides. Put in large casserole and surround with mounds of vegetables consisting of any or all of the following: small white onions peeled whole with a few stuck with cloves, small potato balls, small carrot balls and fresh or canned mushrooms. Pour wine and consomme over all and bake at 350 for about 1-1/2 hours. Remove cover and bake uncovered for another 30 minutes, adding more wine and consomme if necessary.

Dressing:
1/2 lb. sausage meat
1 cup bread crumbs
1 ts. sage
1/4 cup finely minced celery tops
2 T. minced parsley
2 T. grated onions and garlic if desired

Mix all together and brown slightly in bacon fat.

Spinach Almond Souffle

Leave out the almonds if you are serving this to your children, is Mrs. Giem's advice.

White sauce: 4 T. flour
3 T. butter
1-1/2 cups scalded milk

Stir till thick and smooth (or buy it in a can), remove from heat and add:
3 egg yolks
1/2 cup grated cheese
1/3 cup blanched and ground almonds

Stir till smooth then carefull fold in:
1-1/2 cups finely chopped cooked spinach
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Turn into well-buttered souffle dish and bake 30 minutes in 350 oven. If you are also cooking the flank steak, remove casserole cover at this time.

Be sure your guests are at the table, ready to eat, when you take souffle from the oven.
